Short summary

The programme is aimed to identify and develop interests for collaboration across the two regions, pathways for partnerships across education, research and mobility. The event is structured around the understanding of universities, international organisations and government priorities through panel discussions and keynote presentations.

Interventions will include perspectives from Rectors and Vice-Rectors representing key academic institutions in both regions such as: University of the Republic in Uruguay, University of Chile and University of San Luis in Latin America and University of Granada, KU Leuven, Durham University and Eötvös Lorand University in Budapest. In addition, participation will include international organisations, such as UNESCO and EU-LAC.

The event will provide a platform for interaction and exchange of ideas within a framework that allows for impactful partnership development.
